

Credit Congress 2024 in Las Vegas: Secure Early-Bird Pricing Now!

Kendall Payton, editorial associate

NACM's Annual Credit Congress & Exposition brings credit professionals from all across the states together for networking and educational events. This year marked NACM's 127th annual Credit Congress in Grapevine, TX—but next year's 128th Credit Congress will be held in Las Vegas, NV from June 9-12, 2024. And it will be an experience you won't want to miss.

Credit professionals will be able to gain as much knowledge as they need from several educational seminars, plenty of time to mingle and network while also being able to enjoy several forms of entertainment in the city. NACM also hosts an Expo Hall with a Solutions Hub where several exhibitors can present demos, corporate introductions, mini sessions and Q&A sessions in 20-minute segments.

Out of all Credit Congresses held, Las Vegas seems to be one destination that stands out more than the others to many credit professionals. "I've only been to Las Vegas once, and it was for my very first Credit Congress in 2016," said Penny Jeter, CBF, NACM Board director and director of credit at Ingram Industries (Nashville, TN). "The location is amazing and there are so many opportunities outside of the seminars to engage with other credit professionals. It's lots of learning by day, networking in the evenings and no sleep from having way too much fun!"

In addition to networking by day and entertainment at night, attendees are able to get good rest at the glorious Caesars Palace which is the Credit Congress host hotel. It is one of the most luxurious hotels on the Strip.

"The sessions are always helpful and on point with what is going on in the world at the time," said Novakoski. "Applying the knowledge you take away from each session makes it all worth it. Going to conferences such as Credit Congress provides the most diverse education available."

If you are interested in attending Credit Congress next year, below are a few popular pricing options:

1. Member Early-Bird Pricing. Eligible for credit practitioners whose company holds membership in an NACM Affiliated Association, and you work in said location.
2. First-time Attendee — Come with a Colleague. Special offer for credit practitioners who have never attended Credit Congress and will attend with a member or non-member full delegate registrant.
3. Team Discount. Valid for three or more individuals from the same member company registering on the same day.

For more information on registration, please visit our website. Early bird pricing at $849 is available until Dec. 8. First-time attendees can register with a full-paid delegate for $249. The Executive Leadership Workshop is available to the first 50 registrants for an additional fee of $399.